‘Dulce et Decorum Est’ by Wilfred Owen

1. ‘Dulce et Decorum Est’ is a poem about:
   a. the second world war
   b. the first world war
   c. the Vietnam war

2. ‘Dulce et Decorum Est pro Patria Mori’ means:
   a. It is cruel and terrible to die for your country
   b. It is sweet and fitting to die for your country
   c. It is glorious and honourable to die for your country

3. The poet, Wilfred Owen, thinks this is a lie because:
   a. fighting can be a terrible experience
   b. fighting can be a fun experience
   c. fighting can be a boring experience

4. The soldiers in the poem have been in a battle. They feel:
   a. excited and happy
   b. strong and brave
   c. old and tired

5. The poet has a dream in which he remembers:
   a. a man dying in a gas attack
   b. a man dying in a bomb attack
   c. a man drowning in a sea

6. The poet wants the people in Britain to know:
   a. how hard life was for him in the war
   b. how hard life was for all soldiers in the war
   c. how hard life was for old soldiers in the war

7. The poet wants people in Britain to:
   a. tell children that it is good to fight
   b. tell children that they must fight
   c. tell children that it is not always glorious to fight